50X1-HUM

1. A so-called Advisory Corps, comprised of staff officers headed by a Soviet general, is attached to the MBP (Ministry of Public Security) headquarters in Warsaw. The general's office and living quarters are located in Warsaw-Praga, ul. Jasinskiego 18. The advisors are Soviet officers holding the rank of colonel. There are two to four in each department. There is a similar advisory staff in each independent district.
2. Nothing goes on in the MBP without the knowledge of the general and his staff. Even General Radkiewicz has his advisor with the rank of a colonel, (sic). Actually, the Soviet advisors are in control of the entire ministry. The advice of a Soviet advisor equals a command for the Polish director of a department or district.
3. The Soviet advisors have 18 personal limousines at their disposal; in addition, they have the right to take any car in case of need.

The general has three cars at his disposal, One is a Chevrolet, one a ZIS, and one a SIM.
